

Hitting Clinic

At Red Morton Park

Each year, members are given an opportunity to receive personal and group batting instruction from a hitting expert. In past years, former San Francisco Giants player Terry Whitfield has been the Club instructor for a series of batting clinics held at the Redwood City Red Morton Fields. There is a minimal charge to members in order to reimburse the instructor for his time and effort. Terry has a batting cage in Burlingame if some members want to take advantage of further personalized instruction.

Batting/Fielding Practice

The Club offers many opportunities for members to participate in batting and fielding practice. About an hour before Day Play batting practice is available and depending upon field availability batting practice is available before Night League. Also members informally meet for batting practice at 9:00 AM on weekdays when fields are available.
